PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

As a dedicated third-year Computer Science student with a 3.8 GPA, I specialize in both backend and frontend development. I have hands-on experience with Python (Django) and SQL (PostgreSQL) on the backend, along with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript on the frontend. I've successfully optimized queries and built e-commerce systems while also honing my communication and customer service skills. With strong problem-solving abilities and a customer-centric approach, I'm eager to contribute across the full stack and provide excellent service in any customer-facing role.
